

ESTEY UGRAD COMPETITION

research. passion. a chance to win.

Ethics and professionalism are becoming increasingly important within the accounting profession. Organizations are looking for future leaders who demonstrate strong abilities in these areas.

All undergraduate students enrolled in a business or business-related discipline are encouraged to explore and research an ethics topic of their interest.

The Centre for Accounting Ethics at the University of Waterloo will recognize all successful students and excellent finalists. As a special tribute, the student winner, his/her university, and professor will be honoured at the CAAA Annual Meeting and will have his/her research paper appear on the Centre's website.

Eligibility:

- » Undergraduate student enrolled in a business or business-related discipline in a Canadian post-secondary institution
- » Essays must be on a business ethics topic of the student's choosing with an emphasis on accounting, finance, or related topics
- » A student may submit papers already presented within the 2015-2016 academic year for academic credit
- » Papers submitted must represent the student's independent and individual work

Submission deadline:

- » March 31, 2016

WINNER TO BE ANNOUNCED IN APRIL 2016

“ Participating in the Estey Competition was one of the most character building experiences of my life. It provided me with an important glimpse into the complex ethical issues facing accountants in our time. ”

Jill Bradley, Estey winner

1st PRIZE

- » $500 cash prize
- » Winner to present his/her research at the Canadian Academic Accounting Association (CAAA) Annual meeting held in St. John's (June 2, 2016)
- » Assistance with travel expenses

WORK WITH A FACULTY MEMBER

- » Students are encouraged to work with their faculty member to assist him/her in the review of their topic and submission.
- » Students may submit a new research paper or a recently submitted research paper for academic credit on the subject of professional ethics.

CONTACT:

LINDA ROBINSON
Director
Centre for Accounting Ethics
University of Waterloo
519 888 4567, ext. 36995
L2robins@uwaterloo.ca

saf.uwaterloo.ca/ethics/estey/