University of Lethbridge
Copyright Permissions Flow Chart

Is the work protected by copyright?

YES
Is the work an open-access publication, or is your intended use covered by a Creative Commons license?

NO
Does your intended use qualify as an exception to copyright infringement in the Copyright Act?

YES
Does the University of Lethbridge hold a current license covering the work and your intended use?

NO
Do you wish to seek permission for your intended use from the copyright owner?

NO

YES
You may copy or use the work, as it is in the public domain.

YES
You may copy or use the work, as the copyright owner has authorized the public to use the work in the way you intend.

YES
You may undertake uses of the work without the copyright owner’s permission when they are specified as statutory infringement exceptions.

YES
You may use the work in the ways specified in the Library or Access Copyright permissions look-up tool.

YES
Contact the copyright owner to request the required permission, or seek assistance in doing so from the University Copyright Advisor.

NO
You may copy or use the work, as it is in the public domain.

NO
NO

NO

NO

NO

NO

DO NOT COPY OR USE THE WORK

For further assistance please contact the University Copyright Advisor or consult the University’s Copyright website at www.uleth.ca/copyright.
Last updated on January 9th, 2013

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 2.5 Canada License.